PRESIDENT TRAJKO VELJANOSKI ADDRESSES THE EUROPEAN CONFERENCE OF PRESIDENTS OF PARLIAMENTS

The conference, organised jointly by the House of Representatives of the Republic of Cyprus and the Parliamentary Assembly of the Council Of Europe (PACE) on 11 and 12 June 2010, gathered some 300 participants. The main focus was on the rights and responsibilities of the opposition in a parliament and the role of national parliaments in implementing the principle of non-discrimination.

President Veljanovski, on behalf of the Macedonian Chairmanship 2010, addressed the participants at the event underlying that each parliament can have a real opposition in parliament, not just a decorative one, only with truly fair and democratic elections and in this regard, the Assembly fully reflects the will of the citizens. In relation to the rights of the opposition, President Veljanovski mentioned one of the posts of Vice-Presidents and of several important parliamentary committees and other bodies given to the opposition, as well as the regular weekly coordinations among the coordinators of political groups, Vice-Presidents and the President of the Assembly of the Republic of Macedonia and Representative of the Government, where usually by consensus, they agree on the dynamics of the overall work of the Assembly. Speaking on discrimination, President Veljanovski stated that our responsibility as parliaments does not end with the adoption of laws, especially in this sensitive area. The scrutiny role of the parliaments is also important, especially if we have in mind that discrimination on any ground can be very subtle. That is why parliaments should strengthen the cooperation with the NGO sector, the Ombudsman and other institutions, but also to learn from other states. We should remember that the discrimination often arises from the stereotypes and prejudices. I believe that you will all agree that we cannot fight prejudice with laws alone, but that we have to build a political culture which starts in our home and in the education system. This means building a system of values which will be based on the fact that we are all equal and that we are all human; a system of values which will result in mutual respect, said President Veljanovski.

MEETING OF JPC CO-CHAIR ALEKSANDAR SPASENOVSKI WITH EPP GROUP CHAIRMAN JOSEPH DAUL

In the framework of his visit to the Republic of Macedonia, the Chairman of the EPP Group in the European Parliament, Mr. Joseph Daul, had a meeting with the Co-Chairman of the Joint Parliamentary Committee RM-EU, Mr. Aleksandar Spasenovski. The Chairman of the Committee on European Issues, Mr. Petar Pop-Arsov, also took part at the meeting.

Mr. Spasenovski informed his interlocutor for the organization and manner of work of the JPC RM- EU and the activities realized within the frames of the official meetings held twice a year, as well as on the regular contacts initiated by the two Co-Chairs, between Macedonian MPs and MEPs during the EP plenary sessions in Brussels or in Strasbourg. The overall activities of the Assembly were discussed, and in this framework the work of the JPC RM-EU: the cooperation between the Assembly and the European Parliament, the perspectives of the Republic of Macedonia for EU membership, the fulfillment of the remaining obligations, as well as the possibilities for accelerating the accession process of the Republic of Macedonia.

Due to past experiences when bilateral topics dominated over the real issues at the JPC meetings, Mr. Spasenovski asked Mr. Daul to commit within the EPP Group that topics related to the EU integration process of the Republic of Macedonia should prevail on the JPC meetings, despite bilateral challenges that states have outside the EU process.

Mr. Spasenovski also suggested the possibility for strengthening of bilateral contacts on informal meetings organized by the EPP Group between Macedonian MPs and EPP Group MEPs coming from Macedonia's neighboring states, enabling parliamentarians on both sides through dialogue and exchange of opinions, to get to know each other better and to discuss on issues of mutual importance. The idea has been supported by Mr. Daul, who expressed his strong commitment for organizing such meetings in the period to come. In the end of the meeting, it was concluded that the established contacts between the Assembly of the Republic of Macedonia and the European Parliament should be intensified and deepened in the future.
